DESPERATE FIGHT
SAVES PIAVE LINE
FOR THE ITALIANS

Death Struggle Won By Defenders at Zenson Where River Was Crossed

WEST BANK IS CLEARED OF ALL ENEMY FORCES

Native Troops Fought Desperately to Save Their Homes From Enemy

(ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM) Rome, Nov. 19.—Italian forces have begun an offensive on the Asiago plateau and have opened advanced elements of trenches, the war office announces today.

Further attempts of the Austro-German troops to cross the Piave, have been stopped.

On the front west of the Piave, south of Quero, great numbers of Austro-German troops are attacking the Monfenera and Monte Tomba lines.

(ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM) Berlin, Nov. 19, via London—Quero and Montecornelle, on the northern Italian front has been taken by storm and the Italians have been driven from Monte Tomba, the war office announced today.

(ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM) Italian Headquarters in Northern Italy, Sunday, Nov. 18.—The Austrians who forced their way across the Piave river above Zenson have been thrown into the river, drowned, bayonetted, killed or captured, until now not an enemy remains on the west bank at that most threatened point. The fight was one of the most fearful chapters of the war and one of the most glorious.

Details of the fight have been gathered from eye witnesses who saw the fearful carnage through Friday night and yesterday and who stayed until the whole west bank was cleared except for the corpses on the shore and in the foreground.

The wounded were so numerous that many have not yet received succor.

The enemy had staked everything on getting to the west bank of the river and the Italians staked everything on keeping him on the eastern bank. This served both to desperation.

The Austrians made the first move Friday in two separate crossings a short distance above Zenson, first at the village of Fagare and then an old mill called the Segal mill near Follina.

Several circumstances enabled them to pass. They chose a place where a sand bar ran in midstream, giving them a landing and dividing the main stream into two small shallow currents. Also there was a heavy mist screening their movements. They carried material for an improvised bridge with uprights and with iron plates for flooring.

This was about five o'clock in the morning and the mist at that early hour enabled them to get across the second narrow channel to the west bank. The last ten feet the men waded across in water above their waists. In their first surprise rush they swept past four Italian machine gun batteries capturing the guns and driving the Italians back into the village of Fagare. Here the real fight began as the Italians had now recovered from the surprise and they fought like demons. It was a hand to hand fight through the streets of the town with no place for artillery or machine guns and the Italians using bayonets, hand grenades, knives and gelatine torpedoes. The Austrians held part of the town near the bank with the Italians on the land side. The Austrians tried to throw a line around the town and succeeded in part on one side until the Italian batteries to the north got the range of the line outside the shelter of the streets. This line was the first to be demolished then the Italians on this side of the town advanced cheering.

Enemies also are prohibited approaching within one hundred yards of water fronts, docks, railroad terminals, or storage houses and are forbidden to enter or reside in the district of Columbia.

GENERAL MAUDE OF BRITISH ARMY IS DEAD FROM ILLNESS

London, Nov. 19.—General Maude, British commander in Mesopotamia, died yesterday.

London, Nov. 19.—Official announcement issued today says General Maude died in Mesopotamia yesterday evening after a brief illness.

Major General Frederick Stanley Maude, the captor of Bagdad, was noted as one of the most brilliant commanders of the war. After a series of British defeats in Mesopotamia, General Maude was placed in command late last year and won an unbroken series of successes.

Advancing from the Babylonian plains he captured Kut-el-Amara, where General Townshend's army had been compelled to surrender.

He continued his drive up the Tigris, advancing 90 miles in two weeks, and last March captured Bagdad. With the opening of the new campaign this fall he pushed up the Tigris more than 100 miles beyond Bagdad, his operations being designed primarily to defeat the expected attempt of the Germans and Turks to recapture the city.

General Maude was 53 years old.

From 1901 to 1904 he was military secretary to the governor general of Canada, and later private secretary to the secretary of state for war.

This was about five o'clock in the morning and the mist at that early hour enabled them to get across the second narrow channel to the west bank. The last ten feet the men waded across in water above their waists. In their first surprise rush they swept past four Italian machine gun batteries capturing the guns and driving the Italians back into the village of Fagare. ARREST SECRET
AGENT OF KAISER;
HOME IS IN CANTON

Chicago, Nov. 19.—Joseph W. Noth, who said his home is in Canton, O., is under arrest here today and is said to have made statements to government officials which will result in his being taken before the grand jury and questioned concerning the Hindoo revolt plot, the principal in which will go on trial today in San Francisco.

When he was arrested yesterday, Noth had documents showing connection with the German secret service.

He said he was born in Baden, Germany, 28 years ago, and that he had not registered for the draft nor listed as an alien enemy.

He said both of his parents still reside in Canton. The name of Wolfe von Isel, indicted former secretary to Captain Franz von Papen was linked with Noth's.

Noth, when faced with his identification card, his serial number with the Wilhelmstrasse and letters signed both by Bernstorff and Baron Kurt von Reiswitz, admitted he formerly had been a member of the German secret police but denied his connection since the United States entered the war.

CANTON RETURNS TO CENTRAL TIME; TURN
CLOCKS BACK 1 HOUR

(ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM)

Canton, Nov. 19.—Canton today swung back to central time. The change was made last midnight by order of city council which acted after the people on November 6 voted to change from eastern to central time. Mills, schools and business houses turned their clocks back an hour. Churches will swing into line next Sunday.

There were instances where workers at mills forgot to turn their clocks back last night before they went to bed. These men found themselves an hour ahead of time at their posts of duty this morning.

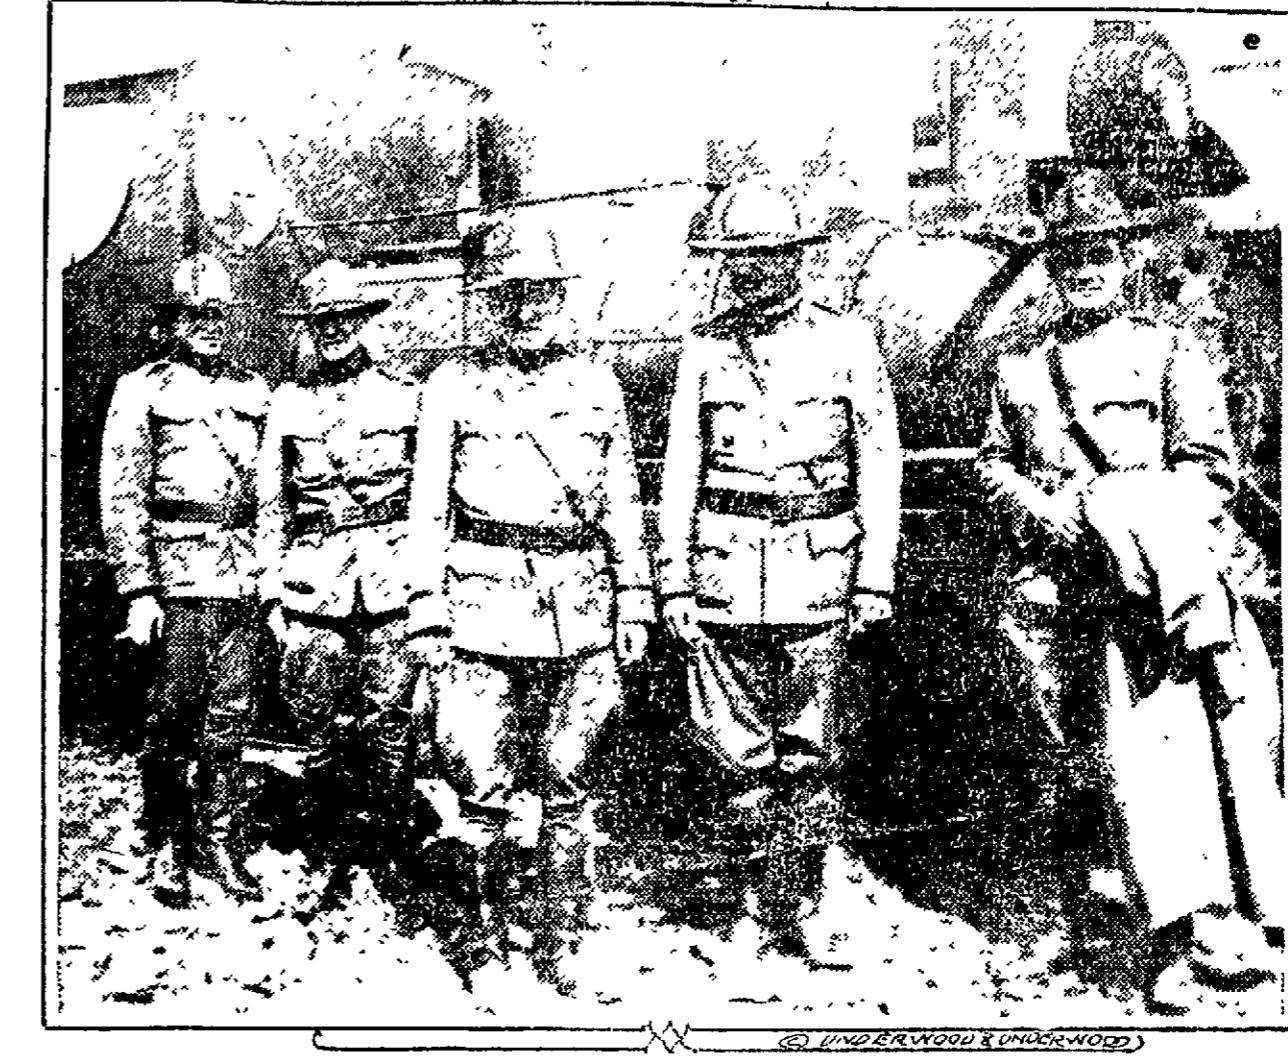

MASSILLION QUILTS TOO.

(ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM)

Massillon, O., Nov. 19.—After using eastern time for several months this city has again adopted central time. The change is general throughout the city.

His brother-in-law, A. F. Dickerhoof is quoted today as saying that Joseph W. Noth told him he had been trying to get into the United States secret service with his brother, Max Noth, and says Joseph has been in the east much of the time since leaving Canton but he does not know what he was doing there.

(ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM)

Petrograd, Sunday, Nov. 18.—Emperor William of Germany has refused to treat for peace with the new soldiers and workmen's government in response to a recent proposal, according to the newspapers here, which publish this news as coming from a well authenticated source.

It is stated that Emperor William announced in his reply that he would treat only with the legal successor to the imperial government or with the constituents assembly.

In this connection the Volga Noroda says it has information that the soldiers and workmen's government in the event of its failure to receive replies from the belligerents by November 23 reserves the right to make peace on its own account, after which, if the war continues, Russia will occupy a neutral position.

200 AMERICANS
ARE ADVISED TO QUIT PETROGRAD

(ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM)

Washington, Nov. 19.—Ambassador Francis at Petrograd reported to the state department in a message dated last Friday and received today that he had advised that all unmarried American women and American men, accompanied by women and children, leave the city. Arrangements had been made for them to travel on the Trans-Siberian railroad in two special coaches. The ambassador reported conditions in the Russian capital chaotic but fairly quiet.

There was no central head of government and the embassy dealt directly with the superintendent of passenger service of the railway in arranging for the removal of the Americans. The department's of government either were closed or were operated without their chiefs.

Mr. Francis said he feared no damage to the embassy but conditions were so unstable that he deemed it best to get the Americans out if possible. Information at the state department indicates that there are in Petrograd now about 200 Americans.

TOURING CAR HURLS
ROADSTER IN DITCH;
CAR DID NOT STOP

(ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM)

A young man and woman from Mt. Vernon had a miraculous escape from death or serious injury Sunday afternoon about 4 o'clock on the Lonville pike.

They were riding in a roadster, which was struck by a large touring car. The roadster was overturned in a ditch pinioning the couple underneath it, but the touring car never stopped. A machine following the roadster went to their assistance and the neighbors helped to right the car and release the man and woman, who escaped with but slight bruises. Their names were not learned.

This morning a Ford machine carrying a hunting party, traveling south on the Lonville pike, left the road and overturned but the occupants escaped injury. Their names were not learned.

One argument of the brotherhoods for increased wages this time has been the necessity of retaining men at their posts, who are dissatisfied with their pay in comparison with the soaring cost of living. Many railroad men have enlisted and others have been drafted for the army. Greater than any of these three classes, however, has been the loss of men attracted to other industries which are working on war contracts and paying war bonuses.

Representatives of the brotherhoods will confer Thursday with the President regarding the points at issue and means of settlement. It is expected that the railway war board will meet immediately after this conference to learn the attitude of their employees.

Suggestions are being given consideration by officials, based on the experience of foreign countries, instead of adjustment of this single dispute, a new agency should be created or the board of mediation or interstate commerce commission be empowered to consider railroad railway wage questions continuously throughout the war, making adjustments at stated periods, possibly three months, which would prevent economic unsettlement and the loss of operating personnel through attraction to other trades paying higher wages. England has put such a plan into effect, the board of trade having power to adjust wages and also rates, to compensate the roads for the increased cost of labor.

Many railroad men have enlisted and others have been drafted for the army. Greater than any of these three classes, however, has been the loss of men attracted to other industries which are working on war contracts and paying war bonuses.

On the other hand the railroads in their conferences with representatives of the government have stated that without additional revenue they would be placed in a serious position by an increase in the operating cost.

CLOSING ARGUMENTS
FOR RATE INCREASE
ARE HEARD TODAY

(ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM)

Washington, Nov. 19.—The final stage in the common fight of the eastern roads for a 15 per cent advance in freight rates involving $58,000,000 of proposed increased revenue annually was reached today when the interstate commerce commission heard closing arguments of counsel. All the big trunk line systems between the Mississippi river and the New England seaboard and north of the Ohio river had a coalition of counsel, headed by George Stuart Patterson, making a stand in the greatest contest before the commission in months. They relied largely on their financial showing along with the necessity of transportation efficiency for national defense.

STATE SUPERVISOR ADVISES A CLOSE TAB ON ELECTION EXPENSE REPORT

The expense of conducting the campaign of the various committees and candidates during the recent municipal election have been filed with the board of deputy state supervisors of elections. All accounts are sworn to as being absolutely correct and are certified as such by the clerk of the board after the oath is administered to the person filing expense statement. This is required by the chief deputy of the state on account of numerous suits having been brought under the corrupt practice act and in several instances successful candidates have been disqualified from taking office.

The statement of the Independent committee which had charge of the campaign of Elmer W. Jordan for mayor, shows that $630 was collected in subscriptions and the same amount was expended by the committee for advertising, rent, heat, cards, etc. The statement of Elmer W. Jordan, Independent candidate for mayor, shows that he expended $18 for gasoline, auto repairs, and $1 for cigars.

The statement of the Democratic executive committee discloses that $571 was collected and the same amount expended for advertising trip to Chillicothe, money advanced for moving picture for inmates of Children's Home, stenographer and secretary's salary, daily papers, gas, water, and pay for checks and challengers at the polls, and money given H. A. Atherton, candidate for mayor.

Herbert A. Atherton, Democratic candidate for mayor, filed a sworn statement that he received no receipts from any individual or any organization. He claims to have spent $280 in his campaign, but did not itemize same.

Shortly before noon today Mr. Atherton called at the office of the board and itemized his personal expenses as follows: Committee assessment, $70; newspaper advertising, $24.50; cards, $5.50; tobacco, ing, hewing their way. The enemy held at first, then began to seek cover and finally broke as the Italians pushed into the town back to the river. Some plunged into the water and sought to get to the sand bar. All the machine guns were abandoned. Most of the enemy fell along the water edge and an observer who saw the gruesome sight says the bodies on the river bank and in the water reminded him of heaps of seaweed after the tide had gone out. Further up the river at Segia Mill the other crossing had brought on another bloody fight which lasted until late yesterday when the whole shore was cleared of the living Austrians. But it was lined with dead. The movement here began late on Friday night and reached its culmination at eleven o'clock Saturday morning.

Friday night several Austrian battalions got across under the cover of darkness. They chose narrow channels and some of the Austrian officers rode across on horseback. They took a position near the town cemetery and opened on the Italians during the night with machine guns. The Austrians carried two searchlights which they played on the Italian position while the Italians were without searchlights. It was only by the flashes of the Austrian machine guns that the Italians could direct their fire.

At daylight yesterday the enemy still held his position at the cemetery. The situation began to look serious and for a time it appeared as though the Italians would have to fall back. But the famous Bresaglia brigade was brought up fresh from the rear guard defense of the Piave. At 3 o'clock yesterday afternoon an Austrian airplane flew over the city, but it dropped no bombs. The batteries of Venice did not fire, but when the machine flew over the grand canal Italian torpedo boats discharged a score or shots with effect.

The city's water supply has not been interrupted although it was feared the mains coming from the north would be cut.

The bridal bouquet was a large arrangement of sweet peas and sweet heart roses.

Mr. and Mrs. Yaco will have their home in Columbus where Mr. Yaco is engaged in the jewelry business.

wavered and broke just as the Italian artillery on a nearby height got the range of the cemetery. But the main fighting was hand to hand with the enemy being pressed back steadily to the river where they were cut down, drowned, bayoneted, or captured. By ten o'clock all had been swept away except a few straggling groups. By noon none of the enemy's force was left on the western bank.

In addition to some 1500 killed the enemy lost 1500 prisoners, including two colonels and some thirty officers. All the Austrian machine guns were captured and are now being used by the Italians.

The fierce fighting is shown by the fact that the old Segi mill on the river's brink was taken and retaken six times during the ebb and flow. The mill is full of bullet holes but shows no evidence of shell fire, indicating that the fighting was entirely at close quarters.

Italian stretcher bearers did noble service yesterday afternoon in carrying for the greater number of Austrian wounded who lay along the shore. Two of these stretcher bearers waded out to the sand bar in midstream, where several seriously wounded Austrians had dragged themselves. They were brought back and cared for carefully by the Italian hospital corps. One of these Austrians was wounded seriously in the leg and he was supported by two Italian soldiers on the way to the receiving station. The Italians recovered their dead, some of them at the water's edge. One gunner was found hanging lifeless over his machine gun. This summarizes a most desperate fight to preserve the Piave line.

VENICE BEARS BIG GUNS.

Venice, Italy, Sunday, Nov. 13.—(By the Associated Press)—The rumble of guns is heard throughout the city by night and by day as the fleet and the Venice coast batteries shell the enemy at the mouth of the Piave. At 3 o'clock yesterday afternoon an Austrian airplane flew over the city, but it dropped no bombs. The batteries of Venice did not fire, but when the machine flew over the grand canal Italian torpedo boats discharged a score or shots with effect.

The city's water supply has not been interrupted although it was feared the mains coming from the north would be cut. The Italians charged shortly after dawn, their line moving straight up the hill to the cemetery. Against machine gun fire and guns on the bank the Italians moved with grenades and torpedoes. It was one of those charges inspired by love of home and country which will live always and it was irresistible. The enemy

NOTABLE GATHERING OF 1787

Convention That Formed Constitution of United States Assembled at Philadelphia May 25.

The convention that formed the constitution of the United States met at Philadelphia on the 25th of May, 1787. The articles of confederation under which the revolutionary war was fought were not satisfactory, and it was proposed to amend them. Most of the delegates to the convention were so instructed. The states of Virginia, Pennsylvania and New Jersey appointed their delegates "for the purpose of revising the federal constitution"; North Carolina, New Hampshire, Delaware and Georgia, "to decide upon the most effectual means to remove the defects of the federal Union"; New York, Massachusetts and Connecticut, "for the sole and express purpose of revising the articles of confederation"; South Carolina and Maryland, "to render the federal constitution entirely adequate to the actual situation." But when the convention met discussion of the situation led the delegates to decide upon framing an entirely new constitution instead of patching up the old articles of confederation.

The convention sat nearly four months, and on the 17th of September, 1787, the completed constitution was signed by the president of the convention, George Washington, and by all the members except three. It provided that "the ratifications of the conventions of nine states shall be sufficient for the establishment of this constitution between the states so ratifying the same." The first state to ratify it was Delaware, on December 7, 1787, and the ninth was New Hampshire, on June 21, 1788. This made it the constitution of the states that had ratified it, thus constituting the union, but New York did not ratify until July 26, 1788, North Carolina until November, 1789, and Rhode Island until June, 1790.

Safeguards Health of The Children

Constipation, or inaction of the bowels, is a common source of trouble to health. Cathartics or purgative remedies should never be given to children as the violence of their action tends to upset the entire digestive system. A small laxative is far preferable, and the administration of simple laxative herbs with syrup known as Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Papain, and sold in drug stores for fifty cents a bottle, is highly recommended. This preparation contains no opiate, narcotic, or habit-forming drug of any description, is mild and gentle in its action, and brings relief without causing diarrhea. Its pleasant taste appeals to children and they take it readily.

Thousands of mothers have tested the merits of Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Papain, and a countless number is in the grand-motherly remedy. A trial bottle, free of charge, can be obtained by writing to Dr. W. B. Caldwell, 456 Washington St., Monticello, Illinois.

Dr. Edwards' spent years among patients afflicted with liver and bowel complaints, and Olive Tablets are the immensely effective result.

DENISON UNITES WITH COLLEGES TO AID SAMMIES

American University Union in Paris Provides Club Facilities for Soldiers in France.

(Special to The Advocate.)
Granville, Nov. 19.—Denison University which has been called "Licking County's College," has joined the American Union in Europe which is pledged to support an organization looking to the comfort and convenience of American college men in war service. Over thirty of the leading institutions of this country have already joined the union, and the Royal Palace Hotel has been rented, a modern structure with all modern conveniences, 80 bed rooms with baths or running water, restaurant, information bureau, and other club facilities, which will insure the comforts of home at only a nominal charge. This hotel is situated on the Place du Theatre Francais at the head of the Armee de l'Opera and near the Louvre and Tuilleries Gardens. It is within a block of the Palais Royal station of the Metropolitan—the Paris subway—and accessible by several lines of omnibuses. The restaurant serves luncheon for 4 1/2 francs, and dinner for 5 1/2 francs. Members on furlough in Paris can secure pension at from 15 francs a day upward, everything included. A room for a single night costs 6 francs up—a room with bath 10 francs. (Divide francs by 5, to reckon in American dollars.)

The initiative in this movement was taken by Yale University in May, 1917, and by ten American institutions in June, but the founders soon realized that the plan must be broadened, so as to include all representative American institutions of learning.

It has been found necessary to relieve the men in the trenches and at the battle front frequently, if they are to retain health and body and sanity of mind, the British soldiers being sent to London, the French to their homes, and the Americans to Paris. Prices everywhere have been prohibitive as a Denison man wrote back from Paris that a very simple luncheon cost him 25 francs, $5.00. Coal in Paris sells for $70 a ton, and even with the price in hand, one can secure but small quantities of the "black diamonds." American soldiers on furlough have been billeted in barns and sheds; have slept in chicken coops or pigeons; anywhere to be sheltered from the rain. Now, all this is changed.

Any man who ever has registered at Denison is entitled to his share of attention at the Union—at a minimum price and maximum comfort. The Union will maintain summer quarters in the Swiss Alps, and winter quarters on the French Riviera. A board of trustees guarantees the cost of maintenance and consider an annual budget of $50,000 a small sum in comparison with the importance of giving American college men, who will furnish so large and important a part of the American army with attractive furlough headquarters in Paris under wholesome influences and providing them and their parents and friends with the manifold help which the officers of the Union can give. Messages sent to the Royal Palace Hotel can be forwarded without loss of time to the men at the front, as there is a force of clerks who attend to this and kindred duties. Denison's share in the expense is assumed by Geo. H. Olmstead of Cleveland, a trustee, and his son Howard Olmstead, a graduate of the class of 1903.

Miss Emily Colwell of the State Library, who spent the week-end with her parents, Dr. and Mrs. Colwell, left this morning for her home in Columbus.

Edward M. Jones, railroad contractor of Lucasville, has been spending a few days at "Monomoy Place," Broadway.

Mrs. Clara M. Ogden has as house guest Mrs. Potts of Knoxville, Tenn., who is en route to Boston.

Mrs. Ogden has just sent off a box to General Pershing at American headquarters in France, containing a knitted scarf and a large fruit cake, as a souvenir of old-time friendship in America.

The two attractions for Tuesday evening can be enjoyed by every one, if they remember to go to the patriotic concert given by the public school children at 7 o'clock sharp in the Presbyterian church and to the lecture by Bishop Anderson at 8:15 in the M. E. church. "Why We Are at War" is a topic which will be forcibly presented by this strong man of the denomination.

Kenneth Ullman of Dayton spent Saturday and Sunday with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. P. Ullman.

WAR LECTURE WILL OPEN DINNER SERIES AT SECOND CHURCH

The first of a series of five suppers arranged by the Men's Brotherhood of the Second Presbyterian church will be given at the church this evening. The speaker will be Dr. John Gross of Marlboro who will speak on "The Conquest of Calamity." It will be a war lecture.

HEAVY PENALTY IS METED OUT TO BOYS WHO OVERSTAY LEAVE

(ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM)

Camp Sherman, Chillicothe, Ohio Nov. 19.—The authorities at Camp Sherman are tightening the reins of freedom that many of the select at Camp Sherman have been enjoying in the two months they have been here. There will be no more liberty construction placed on the passes granted the men. Those who overstay leaves must face the consequences of being "absent without leave in time of war."

The first case to be tried for disobedience is that of Private Thomas J. Geary, a member of Company E, 308th engineers. He was charged before a general court martial with being absent three days without leave, one of the first instances where the general court has acted upon a case usually considered by a summary court. The verdict was "guilty" and Private Geary was sentenced to two months at hard labor and was fined two-thirds of his pay for that period.

"In view of the fact," says a comment from Major General Glenn's office, "that the soldier is a young man, has had no previous service and apparently did not realize the gravity of the offense, the sentence is approved and will be duly executed."

The prevailing number of cases now tried in summary court, the minor court of the camp is for overstaying passes, which are granted men so that they can go home or away for a visit. These specify in hours the time a soldier can be absent and if he is not back on time he is subject to punishment. Leniency has been the policy in the past, but in the future it is not to be so common. Officers say that the men should realize by this time that they are in the national army in time of war and that orders must be obeyed to the letter.

"Observance of rules respecting passes or leaves of absence is just as important in war time as any other military order," said Major Winston, division judge advocate, "and there is no reason why the men of Camp Sherman should not be careful about them. It is the one way to make possible the continued granting of many passes, else it would be necessary to stop issuing them."

Private Mathew P. Morgan, Company B, 330th infantry from Cincinnati, has been sentenced by general court martial to six months hard labor and forfeiture of two-thirds of his pay for that period on a charge of fraudulently converting to his own use $16.16, the property of the Camp Sherman post exchange, entrusted to him as a clerk for the exchange.

"The sentence, though lenient, is approved," is the comment from division headquarters.

Harley H. Brunny, of the 330th infantry, and Louis Bernstein, of the 331st infantry, were discharged today as physically unfit for service. Fifteen in the negro detachment were discharged for the same cause.

Eighteen men today were transferred from various units, including the 329th, 330th and 332nd regiments to the new 368th ammunition train, which is being filled by the transfer method.

BETTER SCHOOLS.

Speakers and writers on educational topics say much about "methods." The effort is made to impart to the teacher a correct set of psychological principles by which she can make study and learning easy for her pupils. Yet if the pupils don't want to learn, no set of methods however good will make them.

And somehow there are always types of teachers who are not very strong on scientific methods.

Yet who seem to have the gift of making a child want to learn.

The fundamental condition in a good school is a feeling of ambition.

The big problem for the teacher is not acquiring some correct psychological or scientific method.

It is simply: can she make the child want to learn? If she can, there will be a good school, and if she can't there will not.

The old-fashioned school depended on the principle of competition.

The best speller went to the head and the poorest went to the foot. That is a powerful incentive and it should be made much use of.

The offering of prizes for scholarship seems a very practical way of rousing ambition. In college life a great deal of interest is stirred by regular competitions for these awards. Twenty-five years ago Denison University established the custom of awarding scholarships to the leading students of the local high school's graduating class, and this custom has been an incentive to better work in the high school. The more recent custom of awarding cups has also had a wholesome effect.

In spite of previous announcements that the American Red Cross does not approve the chain-letter system of raising money, and that it has never authorized any chain-letter promoters to use the name of the Red Cross in any way, letters of this nature are in circulation and many copies of them have been forwarded to national headquarters for explanation. The American Red Cross reiterates that no chain-letter project has its approval.

According to men who know something of the magnitude of the government's operations, our expenditures for the year 1915-1916 will total fifty billion dollars. Of this sum not more than ten billions can well be raised by taxation, and if so, that means a bond issue of $40,000,000,000. The cost for 1917-1918, including loans to the allies, amounts to $21,000,000,000.

Successive operation should be conducted with caution, is the advice of Henry Clews, the New York banker, who adds: "For the actual investor there are many positive bargains, whether prices go lower or not, and it is known that there has been strong buying of many of the best class of industrial and railroad shares."

ious sounding tale, that the newspapers are bought up, either by our government, or "British gold" as the favorite phrase is, to suppress all this news. So a lot of disasters may be happening all the time without our people knowing anything about it. Manifestly this has its effect on credulous people, and creates no end of anxiety in families represented by soldiers.

When a man puts out that line of talk, just ask him for his name and address, if he is a stranger. Observe how quickly he will shut up and slip out of sight.

A systematic campaign for scaring the American people to death is a part of the German plot system. They have their spies traveling on railroad trains and frequenting hotels, saloons, and other loafing places. The yarns they tell are absurd on the face. We have the positive promise of the department heads at Washington, that news of any disaster will be given out as quickly as it comes. This, of course, is the only wise policy. If the idea gets around that disasters are being concealed, the people will get an exaggerated notion about what is happening.

If a real loss has occurred, the newspapers will have it as quickly as the telegraph can carry the news and the type-setters and pressmen can get it into print. If you don't find it in the papers, be confident that it is all an absurd fake. It is circulated either by designing enemies of the government, or by simple-minded people who ought to know better.

THE RED CROSS.

A story is in circulation to the effect that a certain woman knitted a sweater for her soldier boy, sewed a ten-dollar bill in the garment, and took it to the Red Cross, but later discovered that the sweater had been sold and that she identified it by locating the currency which she had concealed in the yarn. The tale was started to discredit the glorious work the Red Cross is doing. In the first place the Red Cross will not accept garments for any particular soldier or sailor. All the articles made for or given to the Red Cross are sent to headquarters and distributed to the men without regard to their names. Sweaters intended for personal gifts are mailed direct to the men, but not through Red Cross channels. Don't let any fanciful tale originated by at-home enemies interfere with your effort in behalf of the Red Cross.

The superintendent and teachers of the Lancaster public schools who visited Newark last week and spent a day looking into the methods and work of the Newark schools were enthusiastic in their praise upon returning home. Newark is indeed proud of its school system and recognizes in Superintendent Hawkins and his corps of teachers a very efficient organization. We are glad the Lancaster teachers came and are pleased that they returned home with a good impression.

RESOURCES OF POWER
WAR NECESSITIES
SAYS MR. PINCHOT

Editor of the Advocate. — The great war in which our Nation is engaged will be won not alone by food and men but by mechanical power as well. Without mechanical power we could not make or move the weapons with which we fight—guns, ammunition, ships, and supplies. Our National resources of power, whether from coal, oil, or waterpower, are National. War necessities. We need them to win the war.

In this gigantic struggle our security requires us to use all these great resources, and to use them wisely and well. The people of the United States own some fifty million undeveloped water horsepower, or about enough to run every train, factory, mill, mine, and electric power plant we have.

For ten years the friends of Conservatism have urged the development of public waterpowers in the public interest. But development has been held back by a little group of waterpower magnates and their friends in Congress who have blocked all legislation which would not give them these valuable properties forever and for nothing.

Today, when the Nation needs all its resources, the same men who have been blocking reasonable waterpower legislation own and are holding millions of water horsepower undeveloped and out of use while clamoring for more.

The time has come when such obstruction threatens the Nation's safety and success. We need the development of these powers in war even more than in peace. At the coming session of Congress sound waterpower legislation should be enacted as a war measure, based upon principles fair to all sides. These principles, I believe, to be briefly as follows:

(1) The thing to do with water power is to develop it. Whatever retards or restricts the development of public waterpowers on terms fair to the public is against public policy and hostile to the general welfare.

(2) Waterpower belongs to the people. The sites where it is produced should always be held in public hands, for only so can effective control in the general interest be secured.

(3) Where public development is not desired, the right to use waterpower sites should be leased for periods long enough to permit sound, attractive, and profitable investment, but never longer than fifty years. At the end of each lease all rights should return to the people who gave them.

(4) In order to protect the consumer against extortion, rates and service should be regulated by Federal authority when State or local authorities fail to do so.

(5) Reasonably prompt and complete development and continuous operation, subject to market conditions, should be required. Already millions of water horsepower are held out of use to further monopoly by private corporations.

(6) Corporations or individuals who make money out of rights granted by the people should share their profits with the people.

(7) The public has a right to complete information about every business based on the use of public property.

These are the principles for which the friends of Conservatism have been contending. Many waterpower men believe them to be fair and sound. They will, I hope, commend themselves to you as wise and reasonable. I am writing to ask your support for immediate legislation, based upon them, when Congress meets.

This is no time to give away public assets necessary for the welfare of our people both in the war and after the war. And we should no longer tolerate the selfishness of private interests which take the dog-in-the-manger position that they must have these waterpowers on their own terms, or no one should use them at all.

As the President has said: "The supreme test of the Nation has come. We must all speak, act, and serve together."

Sincerely yours,

Gifford Pinchot.

THIS EXTRAVAGANCE OF OURS.

(By Hamburg Liebe.)

The average American is not far from the most extravagant person on earth. In normal times, this generous trait—for it is just that—is one of the most attractive things about the average American. It keeps business alive, and always on the go. But in times such as these, when we are facing a whole world full of we know not what, extravagance is unnatural and a sin. The majority of us have not given this much thought, and a lot of those who really have thought of it, do not nearly realize the real importance of Nation-wide economy.

Did you ever stop to think of the cold irony of the fact that there is only a certain amount of sugar, of wheat, of meat, of gas, of oil, of a thousand other necessities, in the world? Yes, gasoline is now a necessity. Only one certain amount. That is very little, of course, only, you hadn't thought to think of it, you good-natured, good-natured American! Well, then. You've been told that our farmers were the ones who would win this war for us. It's pretty close to the biggest truth I know. At least, you are of the fact that we are fairly sure of not having so good a farming season next year as we had this year? And we are going to have to tell our Allies our soldiers in France, the allies—Germany, and the like—of Germany, as well as our allies.

I wonder if you know what that means. To feed our Allies our soldiers abroad, the soldiers of our allies, that will take an amount of food, or grain, that one can hardly conceive it, and there is only a certain amount of food in the world.

By this time of next year, you are going to have the dilemma thrust upon you—unless we begin this economy, this Nation-wide conservation of food, right now. And how much better it is to cut our extravagances now than to have them doubly cut out for us by a burning necessity a year from now! For it's coming. Oh, it's coming. You can't get around it, my friend. And it's coming hard when it does come, if we don't shoulder the burden now. Chalk that down.

But it will hardly be a burden. If we take it up immediately, nine of every ten of us joy-riding, overeating, big-time-loving Americans would really be better physical and mental men if we lived at a third less cost. A trial of one month should be convincing.

I said in the foregoing that gasoline was now a necessity. You'd as well take powder from the Allied armies as to take gasoline from them. Gasoline moves their supplies, ammunition, and men from one point to another; gasoline drives their ambulances loaded with wounded soldiers from their firing-lines to their hospitals. It forms the eyes of the Allied Armies. Take it away, and they would be blind, and Germany would soon be the merciless victor.

And there is only a certain amount of gasoline to be had. We are using an unconceivable amount daily in joy-riding alone; and the gas required for one joy-ride would take an ambulance full of wounded men from trench to hospital! It is going to give out some day; and suppose it gives out for us just when the Great Struggle is at its climax. When the End must be written—do you know what that would mean? Of course, we do not yet see the end of gasoline; but neither do we see the end of the war! No man knows what surprise the bowels of the earth hold for us. It will not do to take the longest chance now.

We are fighting an efficient and resourceful Nation, brother; don't lose sight of that. We are reading newspapers that are very eager to give us the bright side of things; remember that, too. Suppose that efficient and resourceful Nation invents high airplanes that can rise to 20,000 feet, travel 200 miles per hour, carry tons of explosives, and round the world on one journey. Where will we be?

A learned man who has just reached America from Germany, declares that Germany is inventing that sort of airplane! How true his statement is, I do not know; but it is possible they will do.

Yes, we'd better cut out extravagance now. It is no felony if you don't of course; but the American who doesn't lacks just that much of being patriotic.

CLEMENCEAU.

(Cleveland Plain Dealer.)

Another French cabinet has fallen, but Berlin can derive little satisfaction from the news. President Poincaré has asked Georges Clemenceau to form a cabinet. He has consented. And Clemenceau for nearly fifty years has been among the most persistent, and perhaps the most able, of the foes of Prussianism.

He was an aid to Gambetta, who saved the wreckage of France after 1870, and from that day to this he has been a dominant figure in French life and politics. And always he has loathed Germany.

They say in France that his biting tongue and forceful pen have upset a score of cabinets in the last forty years. He has always abominated the pro-German. Since the great war began he has been the foremost proponent of war to the death against Prussianism and the Prussian idea.

He has shown no mercy to the pacifist, who has assailed with the most furious invective the German propaganda which has been constant in the republic from the first. He has pledged himself to the utter stamping out of anti-war efforts, and his record as a publicist and as a public man indicate that he means what he says.

Now, at 76, he is called to the front again to take up the heavy burden of the conduct of the war and the direction of the government. His age and his abilities give the lie to any accusation that France is decadent. His spirit is that of France, in its unrelenting determination to force the war to a successful conclusion, and to destroy Prussianism, and the menace which it holds, for all time.

Georges Clemenceau has a wicked tongue and an ungovernable temper, but he is able and honest, and his program must meet with favor in the councils of the allies. There will be no talk of peace without victory while he is premier of France.

Our Losses by Fire.

The losses by fire in the United States and Canada during the first eight months of 1917 were $180,000,000 as compared with $111,500,000 for the entire year of 1915, practically the first year of the war. All well-informed people are acquainted with the fact that alien conspirators have been exceptionally active since April 3, last. And it will not do to overlook the fact that they are as active as ever today.—Christian Science Monitor.

Pointed Observations

Whether or not Lloyd George's speech inspires confidence on the side of the enemy is of small moment in view of what the victories at Riga and in Italy have done in that direction.—Springfield Republican.

The coal companies are doing everything in their power to help us keep cool in our battle with the Kaiser.—Milwaukee Journal.

Another British Example.

Railroads ask increase of freight rates, because many of the weaker roads are facing ruin. Such increases mean higher cost of living and railroad labor justifiably asks higher wages. Then the railroads pray for another increase of rates. This is the American railroad situation, in a nutshell, and it is the situation in respect of most of the great industries. It was the railroad situation in Great Britain until the British government took absolute control of the railroads, consolidated them, guaranteed the same dividends as those of 1912, invested in improvements for which it will be reimbursed when the roads are restored to the owners and provided or automatic increases in wages to meet the rise in cost of living. It is to this British plan that Washington seems inclined to resort in respect of our railroads.

How would you like to live in Berlin and be allowed one ounce of butter a week?

The Figures Tell.

The favorite statement of the soap box pacifist since the entry of the United States into the war has been that this is a rich man's war and that America was forced into it by wealth. It is in the desire of conserving and protecting their war profits.

The people made by the rich men of the country already; the enormous burden laid upon them in the way of war taxes and a score of other things have made it plain to every intelligent man that if they had brought about the war they were, it was the best much shorter steamed than their business success would indicate.</p

WRAP COATS NEW

Half-Length Garments Are Suitable For All Occasions.

Sleeveless Coatee Intended to Be Worn Under Loose Coat or Heavy Fur Mantle.

Nothing could be more charming than the half-length wrap coats of the present season. They are admirable from every point of view, for not only are they original in design, but they are also practical and suitable for all occasions, says Idalia de Villiers, a Paris correspondent.

The sketch shows a warm sleeveless coatee which is intended to be worn under a loose motor wrap or under a heavy fur mantle. This little coatee is exceedingly decorative and it would look delightfully cozy and festive at a restaurant tea or for visiting when the outer mantle was thrown off. The material of this modern wrap shows Irish lace, which is bound to be more expensive now than it was several years ago when it enjoyed popularity before, for the reason that all Irish imports are scarce, and will probably remain so for the period of the war. To be sure a certain amount of Irish lace has always come from France, but that land has little more time for lace making or facility for exporting it than her ally to the west of England.

Irish lace will be used in combination with georgette crepe to a considerable extent, not only on blouses, but on high-grade undertogery. It will also be used extensively with crepe de chine whereas when it was last in vogue it was used almost exclusively with fine mull, organdie or handkerchief linen.

"Velvet hats of the better class continue in favor in soft effects in small shapes. Hats trimmed or combined with fur are good. The better grades of hatters' plush hats also are in demand, principally in straight sailor effects with soft crowns. Black and brown are the favorite colors.

"A visit to the exclusive Fifth avenue shops reveals some new and interesting things. Among the things displayed are satin antique dress hats, combined with velvet, in large shapes, some with high-turned backs. Some high side effects, or old-fashioned pokes, are also seen. Crowns are both high and low, soft or draped. The trimming consists of paradise, goura, choux of antique satin and burnt effects. Hats of chiffon velvet of a cubist pattern are among the novelties shown. They are combined with velvet and are trimmed with fur and velvet figures."

A special point connected with this little garment was its lining, which was made of printed silk which showed dark blue and black designs on an orange ground.

Nowadays linings are of the utmost importance, and since the happenings of this most terrible war have made silk goods cheaper than serge or cloth, at least in France, brocades and printed silks are being freely used for linings, even in the case of simple tailored suits.

Charles F. Call. Charles F. Call of 26 Gilbert street, died Saturday afternoon at 1 o'clock at the home, following a stroke of apoplexy. The deceased was born in Clarksfield, Huron county, July 21, 1860, and came to Newark in 1903. He is survived by his wife, Mrs. Josie Call and two brothers, Joseph and Robert Call and one sister, Mrs. William Whetres, all of Mansfield.

He was member of Cedar Camp No. 4727, M. W. of A. The funeral services will be held on Tuesday afternoon at 1 o'clock at the home in Gilbert street, Rev. R. A. Carman officiating. Interment in Cedar Hill cemetery.

FREAK HICKORY TREE.

Many of the Sport Variety Made of Chenille and Wool Materials That Simulate Felt.

As the season advances the difficulty in procuring felt and velour shapes becomes more apparent, due to the demands of the army, and many sports hats are being made of wool fabrics that simulate felt, and also of chenille.

Sometimes the chenille is sewed together in close rows, and again a kilted or crocheted effect is developed.

Fortunately Dame Fashion approves the small and medium-sized hat rather than the big, spreading picture affair. This ruling accords well with the fabric shortage, which is felt fully as much in the millinery field as in the larger one covering coats, suits, etc.

Fashion in children's hats vary but slightly from last year, and even at the risk of annoying the young miss, who undoubtedly will feel that she is clearly entitled to new hat, last season's model may be carefully retrained without anyone outside the family being the wiser! Poke and mush-room shapes are the preferred ones for juveniles.

FASHION'S FANCIES.

New stitches of embroidery are arranged to imitate carpet weaving.

Two belts, rather narrow, are supplanting the broad single belt, which has been popular for so long on one-piece frocks.

The tailored suits, dresses and coats show combinations of gabardine, serge and satin trimmed with embroidery.

Velvet hats have satin facings. And soft, pretty velours have velvet bands.

Burnt coque feathers edge chick chapeaux. If mademoiselle does not care for velvet or satin, there is hatter's plush by way of change.

Japanese Motifs.

Several of the French designers are turning to Japan for much of their inspiration. This probably means that Japanese motifs will be seen in embroidery, as much as they were seen last year on the new frocks.

One of the attractive afternoon frocks shown recently in a smart shop is of georgette crepe. Long cylindrical white beads are used as trimming, and they are so embroidered on the skirt as to form perpendicular lines from belt to hem.

IRISH LACE TO BE POPULAR

Use as Trimming for Blouses and Lingerie is Welcomed by American Women.

The return of Irish lace as a trimming for blouses and lingerie is sure to be popular. There never was a kind of lace that had so many warm admirers among discriminating American women as did Irish and that variety of lace based its popularity on real merit. In the first place it possesses that attribute without which real popularity in this land would be impossible—that is smartness. Mere prettiness or daintiness would not long suffice to keep any kind of lace in high vogue. Another merit of Irish lace is that of durability. The fact that the merest amateur can discriminate between Irish lace of a good quality and that of inferior workmanship also helps to make it popular.

The sketch shows a warm sleeveless coatee which is intended to be worn under a loose motor wrap or under a heavy fur mantle. This little coatee is exceedingly decorative and it would look delightfully cozy and festive at a restaurant tea or for visiting when the outer mantle was thrown off. WHITE VELVET HATS SHOWN

Visit to Exclusive Shops Reveals Some Interesting Things, Says Millinery Bulletin.

White hats of panne velvet, also of beaver, are now being shown for fall wear, according to the bulletin of the Retail Millinery Association of America. The bulletin goes on:

"Velvet hats of the better class continue in favor in soft effects in small shapes. Hats trimmed or combined with fur are good. The better grades of hatters' plush hats also are in demand, principally in straight sailor effects with soft crowns. Black and brown are the favorite colors.

HAT PINS TRIMMED IN FUR

Some of Those Shown Serve as the Only Necessary Ornament to the Winter Headgear.

Hat pins have not been much in evidence for several years, but furriers are showing a hat-pin that will serve as the only necessary ornament to the winter hat, says the Dry Goods Economist.

This pin has a small head in the center, surrounded with a circle of fur three or four inches in diameter. This may be had in various furs or combinations, to match the trimming of the suit.

Also in fur are the huge Pierrot buttons which will be used later in the winter to ornament the coats and suits. These buttons are two or three inches in diameter and may be had in the different furs. For drops are also being shown for winter wear on coats and suits.

Women of Ohio Suffer at Home.

ST. BERNARD, OHIO.—"Five years ago, while passing through the critical time of life, I was about given up by all the doctors, but they told me that probably an operation would benefit me, so my husband called a specialist; he said I was too far gone to operate—that I had about two weeks to live.

I had been advised by a friend to try Dr. Pierce's Remedies, and as a last resort I sent for the 'Favorite Prescription' and 'Lotion Tablets.' After a faithful use of these I am, after five years, a living monument to God's mercy and Dr. Pierce's Remedies.

"My daughter and I are now both taking the 'Medical Discovery' for the lungs. I have taken three bottles and the pain in my lung has ceased and the cough is gone. I intend to keep on taking it. I thank God that I heard of these medicines; the 'Discovery' is also helping my daughter." —MRS. ALICE WATSON, 313 Cleveland Avenue.

SPRINGFIELD, OHIO.—"I am glad to speak highly of 'Golden Medical Discovery.' I used it because I needed a tonic and also had a cough. I had used other remedies, which did little good. Then I took 'Golden Medical Discovery' and it helped me to get over the cough and made my health better." —MRS. C. S. WILSON, 715 Broadway.

"Favorite Prescription," the ever-familiar friend to ailing women, and "Golden Medical Discovery," the greatest general restorer, are both put up in liquid and tablets, and are to be found in nearly all drug stores. They have enjoyed an immense sale for nearly 50 years, which proves their merits as well as the statements made by users. It may be obtained at your dealer's, and $1.25 to Dr. Pierce, Invalid Hotel, Buffalo, N. Y., and he will mail large packages of either tablets.

Where do you buy your coffee

DIRT and dust are always objectionable—particularly so in coffee. You can't take it out, so you must either buy clean coffee or muddy, littered coffee that some peddler may sell.

Golden Sun Coffee

Examine your teeth tonight

You will find, in all probability, an accumulation of tartar on the enamel and bits of food deposit hiding between the crevices. YOUR DENTIFRICE does not FULLY CLEAN! Loss of teeth is caused usually by one of two conditions—Plaque or decay, both of which develop, as a rule, only in the mouth where germladen tartar is present.

SENRECO, the recently discovered formula of dentifrice specially prepared in its action, first, it REALLY CLEANS, embodying specially prepared, soluble granules unusually effective in cleaning away food deposits. Second, it is particularly destructive to the germ of Pyorrhea. Yet it is perfectly safe, containing neither injurious chemicals nor hard grit.

ACTIVITY INCREASES ON WESTERN FRONT; ITALIANS HOLD ON

(ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM)
New York, Nov. 19.—In the Trentino along the Piave the Italians have the Austro-Germans in check for the moment and there are indications of a reawakening of fighting activity on the western front, especially in Flanders and around St. Quentin.

East and northeast of Ypres the British are now well established on the Passchendaele ridge. These positions have been under heavy bombardment by the Germans for several days, apparently evident that the Germans are nervous and hope by their artillery fire to check a new British thrust.

Around St. Quentin north-west of the Alette where the French gained a notable success recently, German and allied patrols have been busy. North of St. Quentin both the British and Germans carried out raids. French artillery has been shelling heavily the German positions south of the town for several days and a thrust by French troops, evidently as a feaver was repulsed by the defenders, Berlin reports.

Although the Teutonic pressure from Asago east to the Piave continues very strong, the Italians hold valiantly to their positions and the invaders have been unable to make much progress.

On the Asiago plateau, the Italians repelled violent attacks and near Casera recaptured an advanced position, taking one hundred prisoners. Between the Brenta and the Piave the invaders have occupied positions from which the Italians withdrew.

Austro-German efforts to force the Italians back from the western bank of the Piave at Zenson and Fagare have failed. The invading force which crossed at Fagare has been driven back across the river, while efforts to debouch from the bridgehead at Zenson were repelled by Italian counter attacks. On the right bank of the Piave the Italians have taken nearly 1,300 prisoners in two days. Another army is reported moving on Petrograd to oust the Bolsheviks from control there. The van guard, which is said to be near Gatchina, 30 miles southwest of the capital, already has had several brushes with the Bolshevik forces. It is rumored that Premier Kerensky is returning with the new forces. All the reports lack confirmation.

There apparently is internal dissension in Petrograd between the Maximalists and the extreme socialists who have protested against acts of the Bolshevik regime. A report received in London says there has been a split in the Bolshevik ranks and that some of the ministers have resigned. In Moscow the revolutionists and the provisional government forces have reached a truce after days of fighting in which several thousand persons were killed and some of Russia's religious shrines within the Kremlin were damaged or destroyed by the artillery of the revolutionary forces. The American embassy in Petrograd has asked for a special train to take 200 Americans to Harbin, Manchuria, whence they can reach either Dalny or Vladivostok to take steamers home. Jaffa, the ancient Joppa and the seaport on the Mediterranean for Jerusalem has been occupied by the British. The Turks gave up this important point without resistance and are retiring northward under pressure.

Jerusalem is 35 miles southeast of Jaffa and its occupation by General Allenby's troops probably is a matter of only a few days.

Premier Lloyd George's recent utterances on the necessity for an allied war council will be debated in the house of commons today. The British leader will defend his position and it is expected that his speech will clear up the threatened ministerial crisis.

President Wilson, through Colonel E. M. House, head of the American mission to the allied conference, declares that he considers unity of plan and action between the allies and America is essential in order to achieve a just and permanent peace.

IS REAL AMERICAN WONDER

Newly Examined Glacier in an Unexplored Region May Be Biggest in the Rockies.

We had reached a point of vantage whence we could overlook the whole of the unexplored region of the Rockies from Laurier Pass on the south to the Liard region on the north. No great secret could be concealed from us.

What did we see?

A glance showed us that there was no heaven-kissing peak "taller than Mount Robson," writes Paul L. Haworth in Scribner's Magazine.

But there were several magnificent mountains higher than any along the Finlay. Much the finest of all these lay far to the northeastward. It was a vast affair with three great summits, two of them peaks, the third and tallest an immense square block.

This mountain was big enough to have aroused our enthusiasm, and yet we gave comparatively scant heed to it.

Far down the south slope of it, filling a great valley miles and miles wide, there flowed a perfectly immense, glistening glacier.

"That is what makes the Quadacha white," Joe conceded.

There could be no doubt about it. For a long time I had realized that it would require a good-sized rock mill to grind up enough silt to color such a big stream as the Quadacha, but where was a mill big enough for the job?

We were at least forty miles from it, for we were not fully twenty miles west of the works, and from the forks to the glacier must be at least twenty more. We were eight as one must travel in that region. Yet there that great white mass loomed up far and away the most notable phenomenon in that whole magnificent panorama. It is the biggest thing in the whole Finlay country. I venture to predict that when the glacier has been more closely examined it will be found to be one of the biggest, if not the very biggest, in the whole Rocky Mountain system.

The familiar winter bird, the white-breasted nuthatch, is the champion "steeplejack" of the world, says an exchange. It can travel head foremost down any tree trunk in the forest and can perform other dizzy gymnastic feats with astounding ease. The nuthatch makes nothing of thrillers.

The winter hawks occasionally try to catch asleep this weasel of a bird. The nuthatch, however, can scuttle around a tree trunk, thrice outpacing the squirrel at the same trick. The bird braves the bitter cold, and if it knew how it probably would hearten us in the winter days with something more cheerful than "Quank, quank."

It does not know how, however, and so we must take it for its beauty and its society and let the rest go.

SELECTING JURY FOR THE TRIAL OF BIANCA DE SAULLES

(ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM)

Mineola, N. Y., Nov. 19.—Selection of a jury to try Mrs. Bianca de Saules, Chilean heiress, for the murder of her divorced husband, John Longer de Saules, politician and former Yale athlete, was expected to go forward rapidly after the opening of the trial here today before Justice David H. Manning in the supreme court. A special panel of 150 talesmen had been called and it was expected that the jury box would be filled before evening.

As Mrs. de Saules' counsel has admitted that there is no dispute regarding the fact that she shot her former husband there is much speculation as to her defense. While no announcements have been made it has been intimated that "irresponsibility" growing out of mother-love for her young son "Jack," who by court order after the divorce trial was placed in the custody of the father for five months each year, may be the main plea. It was also indicated that it may be shown that the mother was driven to desperation by the fear that de Saules was poisoning the mind of her only child against her and would supplant her in his son's affections.

Announcement has been made that no attack will be made on the character of Mrs. de Saules at the trial which means that evidence taken at private hearings previous to the granting of the divorce will not be revealed.

Senora Blanca Vergara Errazuriz, mother of the accused, a member of distinguished South American family, is expected to be one of the principal witnesses for the defense. Little Jack de Saules, the innocent cause of the murder, will not be in the courtroom.

Justice Manning has established rigorous rules governing the trial. Attendance will be limited to seating capacity; cameras will not be allowed, and knitting parties have been prohibited.

GERMANS ABANDON TRENCH RAIDS ON AMERICAN SECTOR

With the American Army in France, Sunday, Nov. 18.—(By the Associated Press)—Artillery fighting and patrol activities continue on the American sector. The infantry has not taken part in any engagement and for the past few nights the Germans have not been coming near the American lines, apparently having learned that it is dangerous to do so. Nothing of special interest has been reported from the front during the past 24 hours.

Farrar as Joan.

The last few months of the life of Geraldine Farrar are perhaps the only months of her existence that have not been filled with events. Upon reflection, though, these last few weeks have been filled with events surrounding her that have found recording on the front pages of metropolitan newspapers.

To the public, that isn't much about her that isn't familiar to the great public who know or love the stage. Her life has been romantic, to say the least.

Her operatic career and her concert appearances have been phenomenal, and to the great army of people of people. But what makes for all this popularity?

"Joan the Woman," a remarkable film, is truly a triumph for her.

The story, familiarly known, is that of the life of Joan of Arc, the sainted savior of France. View it and decide for yourself wherein lies the secret of her popularity. Your idea may differ from that of the person sitting next to you.

Perhaps she solves it for you, if you recall that truism, that "If you tell me what you do with your spare time, I'll tell you what you are."

Asked recently what she does for recreation, she answered:

"Work and moving pictures! They are the most fun; I enjoy them so much high tower, Griffith made it serve a double purpose by using it as field headquarters. From a lofty eminence, he commanded a wide range of mountain and valley. Right at hand was a modern telephone switchboard. From it field wires ran to his various sub-generals. Mostly these wires were to conduct underground; they had to be the only ones that would have produced the anachronism of field telephones in Civil War time.

Thus completely equipped as a modern Joffre or Von Hindenburg, Griffith saw everything and telephoned all his instructions. In the artillerist's actions, the guns were used as field batteries, and real shells. All were of the 1864 pattern. When the infantry got busy, they used the antique Springfield bayonets with the old fashioned bayonets, the men charge, it is to be seen that they are firing from a long range, with a span. Many of them are coated and battered; the clothing of others is tattered; the flags, even have the look of battle-scarred ribbons. For the first time in the grim, dirt, sordidness, as well as the glory of war, is accurately presented.

Plainly war, as Griffith makes it, is not a day's outing for a small and straggling crew of picture takers. It is hard, grueling, continuous work. Regiments, brigades, now companies are employed. There's everything from the

that they are surely a recreation for you. There are. Her recreation is her work. And when recreation, called work by others, becomes a playtime, it becomes at once an art. Of course she has a wonderful and perfect sense of personal presence in whatever disguise, finds her to work as becoming as a crown to a queen. She just naturally belongs wherever she is. Just now, to those who have seen her in Newark, she is Joan of Arc.

But what about her? Is there about her that so greatly appeals? Not long before she married Lou Tellegen she was quoted as saying that no man could hold her attention for more than 20 minutes or so at a time. Mr. Tellegen probably did not marry her, but she, whose attention only one man in the world can hold, can night after night send hundreds of men from the theater or from the opera with no other name on their lips but that of Geraldine Farrar.

Today Miss Farrar opens a three day engagement at the Auditorium.

The Birth of a Nation. D. W. Griffith is the most talked about man and probably the most sought after man in America. He learned how to plan scenes, in the making of a 500 scenes of "The Birth of a Nation" on world tour. He goes along through the myriad and one business details of a theatrical success without turning a hair or developing the slightest case of "nerve." When the tumult of the tumult dies, and the horse is small, his refreshment is the hand of a friendly coat with a round table of chums.

It was said on the first night in New York that only the son of a soldier could have conceived and executed such a production. As a Kentucky lad, the son of Brigadier General J. W. Griffith, he drank in the Civil War narratives greedily. As he grew up came the poet's vision of the entire struggle and of reconstruction days in the prime of manhood, awoke the genius to make it a reality.

While planning the Battle of Petersburg, Griffith drilled the regiments as faithfully as Kitchener in England did his forces. He studied the men, their movements, their equipment, to give them the natural and natural movements of the men. He had national guardsmen to work with. They knew the manual of arms, but had to acquire the grand tactics of picture evolution. After the drill was completed, the director took the thousands of minutiae of each month's countryside campaign. Each squadron was commanded by a sub-director.

Pioneers preceded the soldiers to dig the long miles of trenches to throw up embankments and reproduce the typical landmarks of the battle. Among the noted Petersburg landmarks was a far-flung panorama of the general battle. Many hundreds of separate and distinct scenes are taken. The amount of labor and detail in the Battle of Petersburg alone would more than equal the combined labor of all the stage directors in a dozen "independent" productions. "The Birth of a Nation" comes to the Auditorium Thursday for three days. Seats go on sale tomorrow morning at 10 o'clock.

Auditorium Notes. The Auditorium should be packed for three days starting today for Geraldine Farrar, noted star is seen at that house in the most gigantic spectacle ever produced in Newark. "Joan the Woman" it vividly depicts the life of the immortal Joan of Arc and if you will notice the Auditorium ad today you can see what this feature cost picture takers in the city of Cleveland on a new story was also told. Mgr. Fenberg is offering it at the usual evening Auditorium prices. Owing to the length of the film two showings can only be given each afternoon and evening, at 2:30 and 5:30. Today as an added feature the Hearst Pathé News, full of most interesting events, Gladys Brookwell in "The Greatest Human Story ever conceived. Something that will thrill you in every fibre.

The great scene for "The Birth of a Nation" opens tomorrow at ten a. m. Already the mail order sale is said to be the largest ever had in the city for any amusement attraction. Owing to the large audience that expected the first showing, general orders on the phone for evening performances will be held until 6 p. m. day of performance. This will have a tendency to do away with the waiting at box office, also do away with the crowds, and that is sure to happen making the change on the war tax.

The Ku-Klux Klan, which furnishes the last and best thrills in "The Birth of a Nation" coming to the Auditorium. This day was organized in Tennessee in May 1866, and spread through the south until it numbered 400,000 members. The title was taken from the Greek word "kukle," circle, and the name refers to the fact that most of the members were the descendants of their fathers.

LASTING GOOD IS NEWLY REVEALED IN ANOTHER CASE

After a Year O. E. Trackman Ser-gent Re-affirms Nerv-Worth Statement.

There's no doubt about it—Nerv-Worth benefits "stay put." A year ago E. C. Sergeant, the veteran Zanesville street car trackman, made the following statement:

"Before taking Nerv-Worth I was very nervous. Trembled nearly all the time. Very despondent for 15 years. Sometimes was on the point of 'taking to the river.' Was dizzy and had spots before my eyes. Had nervous headache. Had to quit work for two years. Was severely constipated. I tried all the doctors and experts I could without good results. Was so nervous I would sit down and cry at times."

Then Mr. Sergeant told what happened after taking Nerv-Worth:

"When the first bottle was gone I was so much relieved that I went back and got the second one. When the second was taken my nervousness was substantially gone. Low spirits passed away—no more thoughts of the river for relief. Dizziness and constipation almost gone."

This praise was given over a year ago. A few days ago a Nerv-Worth representative called on Mr. Sergeant to see whether the tonic's benefits had endured and the gentleman promptly reaffirmed the year-old statement and added, "I am enjoying good health and am still a great believer in Nerv-Worth as being the greatest remedy I have ever known of."

T. J. Evans sells Nerv-Worth in Newark. Your dollar back if the tonic doesn't help YOU.—Advertisement.

FISH HATCHERY AT LAKE WILL BE BUILT
AFTER JANUARY 1ST

Action taken by state officials Saturday is interpreted to mean that the fish hatchery at Buckeye Lake will be constructed before spring, and completed in time to make the first hatch next season. Mr. Shaw of the state board of agriculture and Acting State Game Warden Baxter visited the proposed site at the lake Saturday and upon their return to Columbus redesigned new plans drawn for the hatchery. It is said that this work will be completed promptly and bids asked soon after Jan. 1.

Mr. Baxter also promised another consignment of fish for the lake within the next few weeks.

Fishing at the lake has been excellent for the past few days. One couple is said to have landed 200 a few days ago and numerous catches of a smaller number have been made. Most of the fish taken were perch.

WAR TIME ECONOMY
HITS NEWARK; FIRST
MEATLESS DAY NOV. 20

Tomorrow will be Newark's first meatless day in the hotels, boarding houses and restaurants, but not the first meatless day in many homes, for hundreds of housewives over the city have been observing numerous meatless days.

At a meeting held several days ago in the Chamber of Commerce rooms the restaurant and hotel men of the city agreed to observe every Tuesday as "meatless day" and every Wednesday as "wheatless day." They have asked all boarding house keepers over the city to join with them in the movement.

There was some sugar received in the city Saturday by several grocers, but it was in small lots of 100-pound bags. This was disposed of to customers in two-pound packages only. About 10,000 pounds of corn sugar was placed on sale, and while it is said to have only 75 per cent of the sweetness of granulated sugar it was eagerly purchased. Many of the grocers in small adjoining towns have quite a little sugar on hand, but when tourists call for five pounds of the precious staple they are politely informed that what sugar they have is being kept for their regular trade.

There is a penalty with heavy fine attached for any grocer or anyone else accepting more than 10 cents per pound for sugar, or disposing of more than five pounds to any one person.

SPENCE STILL ILL
FROM INJURIES IN ACCIDENT APRIL 13

The many friends of Taylor Spence, a former well-known Baltimore & Ohio passenger conductor of this city, now residing in Redlands, Cal., will regret to learn that he is in very poor health as the result of an accident which happened April 13.

Mr. and Mrs. Spence left here about six years ago to make their home in California, he having retired from active duty. He was visited several years ago by his old friend, Capt. John Doyle, East Main street, and the two have kept up a correspondence. Several days ago the latter received a letter from Mr. Spence telling of his misfortune.

Mr. and Mrs. Spence were taking a buggy ride when their rig was struck by an auto and both were thrown from the buggy. Mrs. Spence alighted on her husband's chest. Both were dragged a distance of about 75 feet and were badly cut and bruised. Mrs. Spence was confined in the hospital three weeks, and for a time, her life was in danger.

On November 5 they were awarded $5548 damages by a California court.

Mr. Spence states that he is in bed half the time and weighs only 100 pounds.

Accompanied by his daughter he went to Winchester, Va., for his health, but there was no improvement. He has returned to Redlands and is able to walk around, but is very weak and nervous. He wishes to be remembered to all his old Newark friends.

COPONER SEEKING
IDENTITY OF MAN
KILLED BY ENGINE

A man whose identity has not been learned was instantly killed in the Pennsylvania yards, east of O'Bannon avenue, Sunday afternoon at 3 o'clock, when he was struck by a train.

He was walking the track and did not observe the approach of the train. His skull was fractured and death was instantaneous. The Bradley ambulance was called and the body was removed to the morgue in North Fourth street.

There were no marks of identification on his clothing or his body. He seems probably of foreign birth; height, 5 feet 5 inches; wore a brown beard and mustache, and had brown hair. He had placed two silver dollars in a necktie and stuffed it in his trouser pockets, and wore a pin with the letters "Z. N. P." and he also had a small tool used by masons.

Coponer W. T. Jackson was called, and an effort is being made to identify him.

When a man goes away for a change it's a great mistake to try to make him feel at home.

Aside from the sense of humor, the efforts of some people to be funny are positively laughable.

ANNOYING SYMPTOMS

How Heat Flashes, Dizzy Spells and other Bad Feelings at Change of Life may be Relieved.

Richmond, Va.—"After taking seven bottles of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound I feel like a new woman. I always had a headache during the Change of Life and was also troubled with other bad feelings common at that time—dizzy spells, nervous feelings and heat flashes. Now I am in better health than I ever was and recommend your remedies to all my friends."—Mrs. LENA WYNNE, 2312 E. O Street, Richmond, Va.

While Change of Life is a most critical period of a woman's existence, the annoying symptoms which accompany it may be controlled, and normal health restored by the timely use of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

Such warning symptoms are a sense of suffocation, hot flashes, headaches, backaches, dread of impending evil, timidity, sounds in the ears, palpitation of the heart, sparks before the eyes, irregularities, constipation, variable appetite, weakness and dizziness.

WRINKLES DISAPPEAR
"AS IF BY MAGIC"

"In the removal of wrinkles, I have discarded cosmetics entirely," writes Mme. Corsan, the celebrated beauty expert. "The results they produce are definitely permanent. Massaging is only partially successful and it is slow a method."

"I've never seen anything work such wonders at a simple, harmless solution and it can be used at home without the least trouble. A half pint of witch hazel and an ounce of good powdered sal volatile all you'll need. Mix this and apply thisreibung solution to your face daily. The effect is marvelous—instantaneous. The skin becomes firmer, tighter—every wrinkle and sag is affected. You feel so refreshed after using the wash, look refreshed too; soon you will look ten years younger."—Advertisement.

Hardwood Floors Darkened.

Floors that turn dark from oiling generally need to be scraped. Sometimes a paint or varnish remover, bought at a paint shop, is used first. One housekeeper improved a discolored floor by scrubbing it hard, using naphtha soap and adding washing soda to the water. She did only a small piece at a time, using one of the small wooden-backed nail-brushes with very hard bristles. Cracks can be filled with a mixture of sawdust and glue. This can be darkened with a little burnt umber to match the floor.

In mixing use water 20 parts, glue one part and sawdust as necessary. Another filler is a pulp made from newspapers torn up and pounded into a flour and water paste. It hardens in the cracks.

SOLDIERS' LETTERS

Editor of The Advocate:—Having received the medal presented me by the people of Licking county, I'll take this means of letting you know that I appreciate it and thank you for your kindness shown me by the act. Hoping to hear from you people something soon. I'm yet your faithful, Arthur D. McFarland, (Toledo), 1st Co. C. A. Corps, Ft. Hust, Virginia.

Editor of The Advocate:—The impression seems to prevail throughout Licking county that all of the boys in Batteries B. & D. and we boys of Battery C. from Licking county wish to correct this false impression. We are getting Battery funds from other counties whose boys are in Battery C. and unless we get our share of the fund from Licking county we will have to use what was for the use of others and moreover we will have to feel that we have been forgotten by our friends back home and that we don't want to do. Respectfully: Wilford D. Butcher, Henry M. Clark, M. F. Layman, Sgt. E. J. Higgins, Brice Jones, Earl Roberts, Noble Swartz, Samuel H. Evans, Sergt. A. W. Moneyer, Camp Sherman, O.

Editor of The Advocate:—I wish to thank The Advocate and people of Licking county for the medal presented to me the day I left Newark for Camp Sherman. I have been in camp six weeks and have gained a pound a week in weight, so I guess army life and eats agree with me. I also want to say a good word for the Y. M. C. A. It is the best thing that ever hit an army camp and the money given for the work is money given to a good cause. It means a great deal to the soldier. Yours respectfully, James E. Slocumb, Camp Sherman, O.

Editor of The Advocate: We wish to express our sincere thanks to the people of Newark and Licking county for the medals given us when we left for Camp Sherman. They are handsome reminders of the home people and an incentive to do our best for the home land. We, the Newark boys have signed up in a colored band and Baker C. Cunningham has the honor of being a non-commissioned officer. We have lots of enjoyment; in the Y. M. C. A. games of all kinds. We also eat hearty three times daily and have lots of company. We have not forgotten the demonstration for us in leaving home and we are all striving to return with the same honor that we left with. Your kindness will never be forgotten or the fruits, meats, etc., which you donated us and the music furnished by the Buckeye band. Baker C. Cunningham, 15th Company, 12th Tr. Brig., Camp Sherman, Ohio.

Editor of The Advocate:—I have received the beautiful medal presented by the People of Licking county and I wish to thank them through you for their kindness and thoughtfulness. We are not allowed to wear medals on our uniforms but will have it attached to a watch fob when I get shore leave. Am unable to fully express my appreciation but anyone that ever had any military experience can realize how highly anything from one's friends back home is appreciated. Thanking you for the trouble this has caused you, I remain, Respectfully yours, Clyde E. Garrison, U. S. S. Connecticut, Radio Room, care of P. M., New York City.

Editor of The Advocate:—Having received a letter from Mr. A. S. Mitchell, bearing on Y. M. C. A. work and about Licking county, trying to raise a fund of $30,000, I would like to make a few remarks about Y. M. C. A. work and what it is doing for the soldiers. We have a Y. M. C. A. building in our camp, a big splendid building, and I don't know what we soldiers would do if it wasn't for the good old Y. M. C. A. They have two shows every night and they furnish all the writing paper, envelopes and ink, all free to soldiers. Band concerts, wrestling, boxing, and it would be certainly hard for the soldiers if it wasn't for the Y. M. C. A. and I would like to say one thing to the good people of Licking county, and that is, if they care to help the soldiers give freely toward the Y. M. C. A. fund. Hoping Licking county will make a success of the campaign. I am sincerely yours, Sergt. Carl Welsh, Batter E, 13th L. A., Camp Biiss, Texas.

Editor of The Advocate:—I would like very much to thank the people of Licking county through your paper for the token medal which was sent to me and I assure you that I certainly appreciate their kindness. My company leaves for France just as soon as our division is completed and we are looking forward to learning almost any day now. Will voice with best wishes to the people of Licking county. Sincerely yours, Corporal Chas. F. Renfrew, Second Company Military police, Second Regular Division, Chickamauga Park, Georgia.

WHY WE ARE FIGHTING GERMANY

German Barbarism of Today Equal to That of Huns and Vandals

Certain it is that reading the history of Goth and Hun and Vandal themselves Huns, had "coined" this abusive epithet, and applied it to a "sound and valorous race," he forgot his good emperor's parting injunction to the troops sent to China in 1900. The other point worthy of consideration is that the comparison which slips so easily to our lips is a bit unfair to the original Huns, who for seventy-five years sought their neighbors' place in the sun, and who reached the height of their power under the great but displeasing Attila. There are many resemblances between the barbarians of the fifth and the barbarians of the twentieth century; but barbarism plus culture is a more vile as well as more formidable article than the simple, untaught barbarism of the past. Its resources are infinitely greater, it will more turn to evil.

Mrs. Wigwag—"I like a play to be spicy; don't you?" Mrs. Guzzler—"It makes very little difference to me. When my husband comes back after the intermission chewing a clove they all seem spicy to me."

BIBLE CLASSES WILL ORGANIZE FOR WAR WORK AT CONFERENCE

The first state Young People's organized Sunday school class conference will be held in Newark November 30, December 1-2.

The need has been found for uniting the young people's classes, aged 19 to 24, of the state for war relief and patriotic service as well as keeping the local Sunday schools manned by trained workers. The theme for the conference will be "The War at Home." Let us make the neighborhood safe for democracy. There will be separate conferences for the young men in the First Presbyterian church and for the young women in the Central Church of Christ, with joint sessions in the First Presbyterian church.

The speakers on the program will include some of the best talent interested in Sunday school work. Prof. M. A. Honline of Dayton, of the Bonebreak Theological Seminary, will have five Bible friends and deliver two addresses; Prof. Honline is an international figure in young people's work; Dr. C. P. Hargraves of Columbus, an inspirational figure of unusual power; Miss Edna N. White, professor of home economics, Ohio State University; Mrs. Phelps A. Curtis, Ohio state elementary superintendent; Fred S. Croxton, state chairman of the food conservation; Arthur T. Arnold, state general Sunday school secretary, and Rev. E. L. McTeuch of Millersburg, a young people's pastor. A number of choice young people of the state will also have places on the program. The local committees are completing the plans for entertaining the conference, and the general chairman, G. R. Hackney, and the chairman of each committee will meet Tuesday evening, at 6:30 o'clock in the Y. M. C. A. Let every chairman be present.

Why do doctors recommend PLUTO water America's Physic

THE physician knows better than anyone that constipation is the root of many ailments of the human system. He knows it is the forerunner of auto-intoxication and premature old age. An active, regular digestive and eliminative system is the best insurance against poor health.

The physician of wide experience knows that PLUTO Water, America's Physic, is Nature's own remedy for constipation—either occasional or chronic—and a wonderfully helpful curative agent in the treatment of kidney, liver and stomach troubles, rheumatism and nervous disorders. He knows it is bottled at French Lick Springs, the garden spot of health, and has the same curative properties that make these springs the haven of thousands of health-seekers each year.

Remember, there is only one PLUTO Water. Look for the little red devil on every bottle. It is there for your protection. Buy a bottle of PLUTO Water at your druggist's today.
